

Pedagogical activities

Grade 6

English as a Second Language Activities

- ❖ Look through the various letters and start a bank of expressions such as: It's not fair, We have to talk, etc.
- ❖ Look at the way crayons use language to persuade Duncan to do something. Practise these expressions to convince your partner to colour something in a different colour.
- ❖ Draw a picture or diagram using as many different colours as you can. Add labels. Tell a friend about your drawing.
- ❖ Review letter format with the class. Write a letter to your favourite colour crayon, telling what you particularly enjoy using him/her for!
- ❖ Look into your own box of colored pencils and write a letter to complain about or encourage one of them
- ❖ After reading, encourage your students to write a letter to one of the crayons. Be sure to remind students to respond to the specific things that crayon said and use information from the text.
- ❖ After reading, encourage your students to write a letter from the perspective of their favourite crayon. Remind them of specific things like what the colours liked, what they didn't, things they have coloured, etc.
- ❖ After reading, encourage your students to write a letter from the perspective of another school supply. This will be the most difficult task because it required them to think in a different voice than the ones modeled in the text.
- ❖ Create a list of things that are usually specific colours (yellow sun, blue water, etc.), then switch the colours around and draw a picture just as the boy in the story did (e.g. green sun, pink water). Label the drawing.
- ❖ Look at the spelling of the colour words in the book. Invent sentences (orally) using different colour words. Write sentences with a colour word in each one.
- ❖ Write a reply to one of the letters in the book.
- ❖ Draw a picture or diagram using as many different colours as you can. Add labels.
